Please refer to this document to determine whether or not to add user stories to Completed column on SCRUM board

---

Did you build the thing right?
Did you complete all the tasks related to the user story?
Do all the tasks pass all the acceptance criteria?
Is the code pushed to your branch?
Have you walked through the code with another team member?
Does the code comply with the style guide?
Did you comment your code? Any documentation?
Does it have any errors? If so, what are the errors?
Does this code have any effect on the other components of the app?
Has it been inspected and accepted by the PO?
